

The fraudulent practice of making phone calls or leaving voice messages claiming to be trusted persons or reputable companies in order to induce individuals to reveal sensitive information, provide access or transfer money.

WHAT CAN YOU DO TO AVOID BECOMING A VICTIM?

Awareness is the key to protecting yourself from becoming the victim of a vishing scam.

Professional scammers can be quite convincing.

Once the scammer gains your trust, they will try to manipulate you to gain access to important data and other sensitive information.

WHAT SHOULD YOU LOOK OUT FOR?

The most successful weapons in a scammer's arsenal are A SENSE OF URGENCY & THE USE OF FEAR

They will attempt to scare you into believing swift action is necessary to prevent some sort of danger/damage - often surrounding monetary issues.

Independently verify caller information.

Slow down! Follow the steps in this poster to be safe.

Scammers can "spoof" phone numbers to make their caller ID appear to be from a legitimate company or even someone in your contact list.

Look up the legitimate provider's phone number via a trusted source. Call back using the known good number.

IN 2018, NEARLY

30%

OF ALL INCOMING MOBILE CALLS ARE SCAMS.

(THERE IS NO SIGN OF THIS TREND SLOWING)
